FATHER CONSTANTINE'S REPORT

CHRISTMAS

More and more people are asking during this season: "What did you get for Christmas?"

The trouble with this emphasis on what we get at Christmas is that the whole point of this holy season is lost. We Christians give gifts at Christmas in humble imitation of the Gift that God gave - His only Son, our Lord Jesus. For the Christian the emphasis is on giving.

A man told what happened to him one Christmas Eve when he was a boy, after the Christmas story had been read. After he and his brothers and sisters had opened all their presents, his father asked for quiet, and said, "Of all the presents you received tonight, I want you to decide which one you like the very best, and set it in front of you."

When this was done, the father continued, "Now I want each of you to think of someone you know who is less fortunate than you, and who is not getting presents as you are, and tomorrow we will have the fun of delivering to this person the presents you have chosen as the very best."

This man said he could never forget this experience. It taught him what Christmas was all about - when God gave to mankind the very best He had.

Let us think together about gifts the Christian can give, not only at Christmas, but every day the year round to help make real to people the true spirit of Christmas: the love of Christ

CASESTUDY 1

"The greatest gift I ever received," said a successful young attorney, "was a gift I got one Christmas when my dad gave me a small box. Inside was a note saying: 'Son, this year I will give you 365 hours, one hour every day after dinner. It's yours. We'll talk about what you want to talk about, we'll go where you want to go, play what you want to play. It will be your time.'"

"My dad not only kept his promise of that gift," he said, "but every year he renewed it - and it's the greatest gift I ever had in my life. I am the result of his time."

A gift of time is personal. It is a rare commodity, a present planned for one person only, the recipient.

CASESTUDY 2

A little girl said once, "I don't have any gifts. I can't sing. I can't paint, and I know I can't write poetry. I just don't have any gifts!"

"Yes, you do - it shines out all over you," her mother said quickly. "You have one of the best gifts of all - the gift of friendship. You just seem to know how to be friends with people".

Instead of asking how many friends do I have? the Christian asks: to how many people can I be a friend? People who need people are the luckiest people in the world. Express your friendship with a thoughtful telephone call, or card, or visit, to let them know you care.

CHRISTMAS CONTINUED

The greatest gifts are free. The gift of encouragement, the gift of saying, "I love you" to someone whose love we have taken for granted, the gift of forgiveness, the gift of saying, "I'm sorry" to someone we have hurt, the gift of understanding, the gift of really listening when another speaks to try to get his or her point of view, to try to understand how he or she really feels. To be sensitive to what others are really saying. To give one's whole and serious attention to another person, is a real gift.

Another great gift for Christmas as well as for every day is praise. All of us need praise. When we don't get it, life becomes unbearable. When we do get it, we tend to live up to it. The desire to be praised and appreciated is perhaps one of the deepest needs we have. Few gifts we can ever give are greater than praise.

HOW TO GIVE: Finally, the Lord Jesus tells us that whatever the gift we give, we should give it to the person with the greatest need, expecting nothing in return. As Jesus said, "When you give a dinner, do not invite your friends or your brothers or your kinsmen or your rich neighbors, lest they also invite you in return, and you be repaid. But when you give a feast, invite the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind, and you will be blessed, because they cannot repay you."

Through Jesus we receive the gift of being members of God's family, the gift of a loving heavenly Father, the gift of a God who knows us by name and cares about each of us, the gift of the Holy Spirit abiding within us with all His power, the gift of a place in God's heaven.

What did you get for Christmas?

I got Christ as my Savior and Lord!

And because I received Him, I cannot but give my time, my friendship, my love, my care, concern, forgiveness, understanding to all.

Finally, I'd like to wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a truly Happy and Prosperous New Year, and I hope to see you all at Church on Christmas Day!!!!!!

G.A. NIGHT

TRANSFORMERS

This function, the Gospyan awards (G.A.) night comprises of trophies awarded to deserving gospyans as well as entertainment provided, consisting of a series of commercials and skits put together by Gospya's own filming crew. For a night with a difference be at Transformers for this annual event. Please remember to bring your I.D., you may just need it.

26th December

COMBINED FANCY DRESS

GREEK CLUB

Gospya this year is privileged to join with GOYA, CYPRIOT, PYA and OLYMPIC youth committees for yet another combined dance. Last year this night was the most successful on the calendar and this year will be no exception. To join in the spirit of the function come dressed up, prizes will be given to the best costumes. You will have the whole day to prepare so make it a night not to be missed.

Join the five major youth groups in brisbane on this night and finish off the year successfully.

PAST FUNCTIONS????

As you were all aware the combined youth held a function at the GOSP Hall on the 21st October, named the Bush and Breakers Bash. When we all get together to discuss the next combined function we constantly try to develop new and exciting ideas for the greek youth. This idea came about and after much argument, but with the enthusiasm from most members we decided to give it a try.

Unknown to us at the time, we had a lot of competition that night, with parties, engagements and of course Hot Gossip. The Snake Gully Bush Band did as much as possible to turn the Zorbas into the bush dancing champions on the dance floor. At first it looked like a dramatic culture shock, but given just a bit of time, the participants got into the spirit of the theme.

The night was not exactly as we had expected it to turn out, and the attendance was not anything like the B & S Ball in August, but the feed back from those who attended, was definitely positive. We do hope however that future combined functions will not be compared, but once again I will mention that the night chosen was unfortunately inconvenient for most people.

Gospya would like to thank the members of GOYA, OLYMPIC, PYA and CYPRIOT youth committees, we have proved we can work together and the future looks bright for our up and coming functions. A special thanks to those people who did attend the bush dance. If I can talk for everyone, I would say it was a great night.

please read on.....

And yes we will forgive all those people who decided that throwing bails of hay around, and at each other was 'great fun', even if it did take over two hours to vacuum it up!!!!

DEBUTANTE BALL NEWS

On the 7th of October, Gospya held its 7th Annual debutante Ball at the Greek Community Centre. The night was most successful and enjoyed by all who attended. The Guest of Honour this year was Mr Craig Sherrin, who is the present member for Mansfield. On speaking with Mr and Mrs Sherrin about the night they had no hesitation in commenting on how professionally organized and presented the night was. The six months of preparation needed to organise the Ball definitely paid off.

Congratulations must go to John Stavrou who was the lucky winner of the raffle prize which was a trip to Greece. Have a great trip John.

I would also like to say that our choice for the Master of Ceremonies was definitely the right one. Theo Condoleon did a wonderful job as M.C. and we thank him very much for accepting the offer. Any-one who can understand my script must be good???

In case you yourself are unsure on the true proceedings of a Debutante Ball, I hope the explanation which follows clears that up.

The tradition of the presenting of a Debutante is to introduce to the community a young lady who has attained a sense of maturity and responsibility. The night is seen as a coming out into society, for the young ladies in the presence of a recognized public figure, and with the assistance of the Matron of Honour.

Over the six months leading up to the Ball, the Debutantes and the escort of their choice are taught a greek dance as well as the pride of erin to be performed on the night as part of the ceremony. In similar tradition to a wedding the colour chosen for the deb to wear is white. Flower girls and page boys are also present and the ceremony also includes the cutting of the debutante cake.

The greek community has several traditions and the Debutante Ball is a new tradition that GOSPYA will keep holding as we feel it is a very important event for young ladies to participate in.

Early in 1990 we will be looking for our next Debutantes, so please consider the idea as it is definitely a worthwhile event.

UNTIL THE NEXT FUNCTION.....

ENJOY ALL THOSE CHRISTMAS PARTIES.....

WE WILL BE???????????

FACE TO FACE

MANY TIMES AS I READ THE BIBLE I am astounded by the very close relationship many of the old prophets and saints had with God. They gave us an example of what our relationship with Him should be. So how close is a close relationship? Well, let's take Moses for instance:-

"The Lord would speak with Moses face to face, just as a man speaks with a friend." (Ex.33:11). Really, how much closer can you get? I believe that God wants every one of us to be able to speak and relate to Him in the same way:-

Face To Face!

Let's not trivialise this statement or try to explain it away. Our God is the same today as He was yesterday and will be tomorrow. He gives the same love and grace and expects the same response from us. Even this busy world - where so many things get in the way He desires to meet us and give us the opportunity to know Him.

In the final analysis, nothing else will ever make us completely and permanently happy. Someone once said that there is a God-sized hole within everyone of us and not all the success, fame, money, friends, parties etc, in the world can ever fill it- only God.

So why don't we take up His imitation and set out to meet this God who is our Creator and Saviour - face to face.

GOSPYA TREK

THE FINAL FRONTIER

Captain Cayas relaxed in her chair, content in the knowledge of the supreme power at her fingertips.

"How are things in the Engine room, Mister Samios?"

Chief engineer Andrew Samios surveyed the machinery before him. It had been a succession of many varied starship assignments, culminating in this mission. As he handled the equipment, he secretly longed to be back at the helm of the truck, but if this was the best that the starfleet could provide, then it would have to do. Everything on the monitor screens checked out OK.

The reply came on the intercom: "Everything is fine down here, Captain. We're still on Warp three en route to Hotgossipus IX."

"Thank you, Mr. Samios."

The Starship GOSPYA had been Captain Cayas' assignment since the beginning of the year. Her rather vague orders of "Go where no person has gone before" were thrust upon her as she took on the challenge of commanding the most advanced starship in the fleet. It was lucky that she also had the most advanced starship crew in her command. True, a few needed to be weeded out, but eventually she was left with a group unparalleled in their loyalty. At the moment, the crew was on its way to the Starbase Hotgossipus IX for supplies and some much needed shore leave after a long and hard stretch of space.

Captain Cayas was deep in thought when she was interrupted by Science Officer Patra. "Captain, our forward scanners have sensed some unusual medium-frequency thermal fluctuations, direction four, four nine mark seven azimuth fourteen."

Captain Yvonne Cayas cringed. It wasn't because of Science Officer Patra's pointy ears - she had gotten used to that. It wasn't her stone-cold absolutely mellow personality either - at least she was dependable. No, it was the infuriating way she disguised something so simple under an incoherent cloud of technical gibberish so that no one could understand what was going on. Captain Cayas was going to have to ask that same old question again:

"What do you mean, Patra?"

"Unidentified vessel ahead, Captain", came the reply.

"I wish you'd said that in the first place" mumbled Yvonne. She turned to Lieutenant Leah.

"Try to establish contact, Lieutenant"

"Hailing all frequencies, Captain. No response on all channels." This was quite predictable, of course. It had been two years that Lieutenant Leah had been at the communications console, and all that she had ever been able to report was "Hailing all frequencies. No response.". She wished the scriptwriters would think of something else for her to say.

"We have visual contact on forward screens, Captain", reported the ever-loyal Patra.

Captain Cayas examined the object carefully. It looked exactly like a Nissan EXA, with strange writing on the side, only much bigger and with dangly bits hanging off it. She watched it spinning around for a few seconds, when suddenly there was a flash of light.

Before she could shout "Evasive Action!", the starship was jolted by a high-intensity photon torpedo. Heck, there wasn't even time to get the shields up. "Damage report, Mr. Samios." was all she could say.

The damage report came through the intercom, amidst the sounds of obvious chaos in the engine room. "We've been hit real bad, Captain. Engines one through eight are completely beyond repair. They knew exactly where to hit."

"Anything yet, Lieutenant Leah? Maybe they will try to transmit some sort of ultimatum."

"Hailing all frequencies, Captain. No response."

"Officer Patra, what are our chances?"

"I compute them at approximately one in five million, six hundred and twenty-two thousand, three hundred and seventy-five point two nine..."

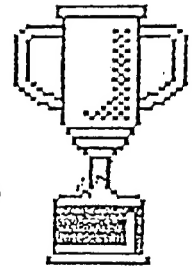

"That will do, Patra.". Obviously they had very little chance of surviving another blast from the enemy craft. What was Captain Cayas to do?
